From the Principal...

Reading every night

Students receive a raffle ticket to go into the draw to win the weekly prize of a $5 Deb's Café gift voucher. Remember you only have to read for 10 minutes each night and have an adult sign your reading log to receive your raffle ticket. Thank you to the Donoghue family for donating the weekly prize for the term.

Notices and forms

To ensure you are kept abreast of things we ask that all parents and caregivers e-mail Principal@bollonss.eq.edu.au with your preferred e-mail so we can update our list. Hard copy of permission forms will still be sent out with students as they need a signature before returning.

Prac Student

We welcome Miss Stephanie Turner our new prac student in the senior class. Stephanie comes from Brisbane and will be here for three weeks. She has come with lots of enthusiasm and is enjoying getting to know the students and working with them.

Athletic Sports District Carnival

Congratulations to the students in 4/5/6 who made it to the Balonne district athletics carnival held on Tuesday. The students had a great day and represented the school proudly. A big thank you to the parents who transported the students, help set up the marquee, supported and cheered on all the Bollon students and volunteered to represent the school by assisting with the time keeping. Thank you to Rhonda

Mobbs for being the staff representative for the day.

Congratulation to Walter Tinkler and Harry Sheahan for being nominated and representing the Balonne district at the next level of competition.

Time Capsule now buried

The time capsule from the 100th anniversary and our recent 130th anniversary were buried last Friday. Some of the things that we buried in the 130th time capsule were-

- the students' video from the students' perspective,
- the school song video clip Bush boys and girls of Bollon,
- a current school uniform,
- the Anniversary Bollon Bugle,
- 130th anniversary souvenir book,
- Students' letters to their future selves.

Touch Football

There will be no more touch football training this term. Thanks to Bec Steer and Steve Love for running it.

Have fun

Good luck and best drafting to the students and parent/caregivers who are participating in this weekend's Bollon campdraft.

Regards,

Miss Vanessa Sumner

Senior Class News

These last few weeks the students in the senior class have been studying the conventions of poetry. This week the students learnt about limerick poems. Below are some of the amazing poems the students have created.

Olivia

There once was a horse from a town called Morse whose hair was very coarse.

He loved to ride,
and did it with pride.

He could pull you with great force.

Jack

There once was a man from Deadman's Creek,
who was too shy to actually speak.

He got a Rhino

Then a dino.

So now he talks with a squeak.

Damien

There once a man called Bill.

Who liked to have a spill

He was a bit of a clown

And a man about town

He now lives in the upper side of town.

Miss Sumner

In science the students are learning about ..... Matter.

We have been conducting small experiments investigating phase change in substances.

The students have been introduced to terms like:- evaporation, condensation, freezing, volatile, etc.

The focus has been on common household substances as these will be the substances the students will most likely come into contact with.

Mr Bryant

Junior Class News

Over the past two weeks in the Junior school area students have completed their informative text assessment on penguins with good results. From this week our English unit will focus on poetry for the next five weeks. We have looked at a number of different types of poems such as rhyming, silly poems and other types. Students have also looked at a poem in depth and changed a few of the words to make the poem their own. They have even started to make up actions to a couple of poems as their assessment at end of term requires them to perform a poem with actions. It will be fun and interesting to see what they come up with as a group.

In maths the class has also been very busy reading and trying to improve their comprehension and spelling abilities to help them along with their reading skills. In mathematics, students have been working through their i-maths books which are new. Students have been working on two and three digit numbers in grades one and two and preps have looked at addition and furthering their maths skills.

Prep students had fun the other day working on the poem Boris The Spider as they sequenced each verse back into the correct order then cut out and coloured in their spiders. There were some fantastic spiders pasted into their books with great spider webs to go with their drawings.

In History students have looked at how families in the 1800s up until today have altered over the time:- what it was like back then and what families have today. Some interesting discussions have been posed.

Kerri Ryan

Enter the UNSW Bragg Prize for science writing

Celebrate your love of science and gift with words this National Science Week by writing about your favourite science experiment or scientific discovery in history. In 800 words or less, share your mind-blowing experiment and the impact it has had — or could have — on society. There are fantastic prizes up for grabs, including being published in Australia's top science magazines — now that would be something to brag about! Entries close on 7 September. For more information and to enter, visit the website <http://www.refractionmedia.com.au/braggstudentscienceprize/>

Parenting Ideas

Teach your kids about time and place

By Michael Grose

My mum used to tell me, "There's a time and place for everything Michael, and this is not the time and place to behave like that!"

Time and place is a brilliant socialisation lesson for children of any age or era to absorb.

It's a parent's job to socialise your kids. That is, it's your job to develop a sense of OTHER so that they become aware of how their behaviour impacts on others. You do this by:

1. Giving your kids social scripts

There are times when kids don't know what to say or how to act in different social situations. "Here's what you can say when you meet Mrs Smith..." is the type of pre-emptive social scripting that benefits most boys, kids on the autism spectrum as well as kids who need extra help to get on with others.

2. Regular behaviour rehearsal

Practise appropriate social behaviours at home so kids know how to behave around others. For example, you can role-play a restaurant situation by serving your kids' meals at the dinner table and expecting them to use their manners.

3. Just-in-time prompts

It helps to remind in positive terms how kids should speak and act around others before entering a social situation or a special place such as a church, airport or restaurant. "In church most people..."

4. Teaching good manners

Manners are social guidelines that teach kids how to behave around others. While some conventions change over time, basic good manners such as saying 'please' and 'thank you' never change. They are the basis of a civil society. Kids are never too young to start learning manners.

5. Respectful use of consequences

While the best discipline happens before an event (through behaviour rehearsal, prompts and teaching manners) there are times when the only way to get a message across about time and place is to DO something if the kids' behaviour thoughtlessly or deliberately impinges on the rights of others. And the best action may be WITHDRAWAL from the place or activity that they are doing. That may mean that the kids (and you) miss out on an activity or being in a special place but such lessons are rarely forgotten and reinforce your important messages.

Time and place is a great parenting message for kids to learn. It's about consideration for others; it's about self-control and above all else, it's about fitting into different social situations.

Week 7 Focus Expectations:

*Be Respectful

Wait my turn

Week 8 Focus Expectations:
